

ECON2105-06 Principles of Macroeconomics

Brian Albrecht

E-mail: balbrec4@kennesaw.edu

Office Hours: Th 1-2, or by appointment

Office: Burruss Building 359

Web: d2l.kennesaw.edu

Class Hours: Tu-Th 9:30 am - 10:45 pm

Class Room: Burruss Building 152

tl;dr

The course has three exams (2/10, 3/24, 4/28), which are based on the lectures and make up 90% of your grade. If you want a course made up of busy work each week, drop this one. Come to lecture and office hours to get the most out of this course.

Course Description and Objectives

This course is an introduction to the formal study of macroeconomics.

Macroeconomics involves the study of the economy as a whole. Topics that will be covered include national income determination, the general price level, interest rates, unemployment, and fiscal and monetary policies. The emphasis will be on genuine understanding of the material, and not on “memorization”.

To say that the economy is immensely complex is an understatement. Indeed, you may be skeptical that we can say anything meaningful about how it actually operates. This belief, while common, is mistaken. There are certain universal traits of human nature that yield principles capable of explaining the economic forces that shape the world around us. Upon successfully completing this course, you will be conversant in the basic principles of macroeconomics and prepared for more advanced coursework on this subject.

Textbook

Case/Fair/Oster, Principles of Macroeconomics, 13th Edition. 2020.

Please note that exams will be based on the lectures. The textbook is only meant to supplement the lectures. Other supplemental readings/podcasts/videos will be posted.

Day One Access

ECON2105 is part of a textbook program called Day One Access. The week before classes begin, you should receive an e-mail from KSU University Stores with instructions on how to access the course content (please check your junk folder if not in your inbox). The purpose of Day One Access is to make sure that you have access to the digital course materials on or before the first day of class at a highly competitive rate. Everyone enrolled in the course will automatically have access to the digital course materials through drop/add. Those who have not opted-out or dropped the class by drop/add, will receive a charge from the bookstore on their OwlExpress student account the following week.

You have the ability to Opt-Out, via the link in the email sent to you by University Stores. Once you opt out, you will immediately receive a confirmation email. If you do not receive this email, you did not successfully opt out. If, after multiple tries, you are unable to successfully opt out via the link, please email dayone@kennesaw.edu prior to the opt-out deadline and request to be manually opted out. You must include your name, student ID number, and the course info. Emails sent after the deadline will not be acknowledged.

You should also login and register your materials via the link during the first week of class. If you do not do register by this date, you may temporarily lose access and an access code may be requested despite not having opted out. If this happens, please email dayone@kennesaw.edu. (DO NOT purchase an access code if this happens, as you will not be refunded. Please wait for a response to your email.)

If you would like to know more about Day One Access, please visit https://ksustore.kennesaw.edu/textbooks/day_one_access.php.

Course Prerequisites:

Business Majors: MATH 1111 or higher; Non-business Majors: MATH 1101 or higher

Course Withdrawal Date and Policy:

Last day to withdraw without academic penalty is Thursday, 10/21/2021. Students withdrawing after this date will receive a WF. Students who wish to withdraw with a grade of “W” must do so formally through the Registrar’s Office on or before 10/21. All withdrawals must be processed officially through the Office of The Registrar by the student.

Make-Up Exam Policy:

No make-up exams or assignments will be given during the semester. It is the student’s responsibility to check the course calendar and announcements in D2L.

Attendance Policy:

Class success and learning depends on your interaction, including reading all materials and being alert for announcements. You are expected to check D2L on a daily basis and if not certainly every week. Posts made to the Class Café by your professor are required reading and may contain important announcements. In addition, all items in the Learning Modules are required readings. Students should realize that it is highly unlikely that a student will earn a passing grade if he/she does not actively participate in this class each week. Further, office hours will not be dedicated to correct deficiencies induced by lack of participation.

Grading Policy:

Grading for this course will be based on three (3) exams and homework. Each exam will be worth 30% of your final grade. The remaining 10% of your grade will be based on homework (see the handout). There will be NO MAKE-UP EXAMS. If you miss an exam, the next exam will count as double. If you miss two consecutive exams, you will receive an ‘F’. Please note that this is NOT an invitation to skip an exam. If you miss an exam, you must have a satisfactory excuse. Examples of satisfactory excuses include a documented illness (i.e. one that requires a note from a doctor), funeral services, military service, religious observances, and university-sponsored activities. In the event that an absence is known about in advance, I will make arrangements with the student to take the exam at an alternate time.

EXAMS:

- There will be three exams during the semester.
- The exams will be in person. No make-up will be given for any of the exams.
- The first exam is scheduled for Thursday, February 10, 2022.
- The second exam is scheduled for Thursday, March 24, 2022.
- The third exam is scheduled for the last day of class (not exam week) Thursday, April 28, 2022.

Overall Class Grade

- – Overall class grades will be rounded to the nearest number (e.g. 89.33 will be rounded to 89, 89.67 to 90, or 59.72 to 60 etc.)
- The grading scale will be as follows: 100-90 A, 80-89 B, 70-79 C, 60-69 D, 59-0 F

Incomplete Grades: Incompletes are awarded for non-academic reasons at the instructor's discretion, and not at students' discretion.

Note: For all other questions related to grading policy, see the KSU 2021-2022 undergraduate catalogue.

Tentative Schedule

The material covered will include, but not be limited to:

- Material Covered Before Exam 1
 - Microeconomics Review
 - Introduction to Macroeconomics
- Material Covered Before Exam 2
 - Consumption, Savings, and Investment
 - Economic Growth
- Material Covered Before Exam 3
 - Money, Banks, and Financial Markets
 - Monetary Policy
 - Fiscal Policy

Note: Changes to this course outline and schedule, if needed, will be announced through the Class Cafe discussion, via D2L email, or both. It is the responsibility of students to stay aware of changes that may occur during the semester.

One Final Note: You are undoubtedly tired of hearing this, but you are here to get an education, not merely to pass classes. The amount of effort that you put in to this class is strongly correlated with the final result. You can view this course as a learning experience or as a grind. Ultimately, the choice is yours. However, choosing to view the courses you take as a learning experience rather than a grind will likely result in better performance and a much more enjoyable college experience. Never underestimate the value of your education.

Course Policies

Instructor Contact Information: You may contact me through campus e-mail at balbrec4@kennesaw.edu.

Instructor Response: Questions of a general nature should be asked in the Class Caff discussion. Students are encouraged to answer and help other students.

Specific questions for the instructor should be emailed through D2L. Responses will be provided within 24 hours during the business week. Questions received on weekends will be answered at first opportunity on Monday. Feedback and scores on graded work are provided within one week of the assignment due date.

Late Assignments: Late assignments will NOT be accepted. Check the calendar for the due dates. In the event of a server failure or natural occurrences, students are required to submit assignments through campus e-mail (to: balbrec4@kennesaw.edu) PRIOR to the expiration time of the assignment.

USGS COVID-19 Syllabus Statements

Course Delivery

KSU may shift the method of course delivery at any time during the semester in compliance with University System of Georgia health and safety guidelines. In this case, alternate teaching modalities that may be adopted include hyflex, hybrid, synchronous online, or asynchronous online instruction.

Staying Home When Sick

If you are feeling ill, please stay home and contact your health professional. In addition, please email your instructor to say you are missing class due to illness. Signs of COVID-19 illness include, but are not limited to, the following:

- Cough
- Fever of 100.4 or higher
- Runny nose or new sinus congestion
- Shortness of breath or difficulty breathing
- Chills
- Sore Throat
- New loss of taste and/or smell

COVID-19 vaccines are a critical tool in “Protecting the Nest.” If you have not already, you are strongly encouraged to get vaccinated immediately to advance the health and safety of our campus community. As an enrolled KSU student, you are eligible to receive the vaccine on campus. Please call (470) 578-6644 to schedule your vaccination appointment or you may walk into one of our student health clinics.

For more information regarding COVID-19 (including testing, vaccines, extended illness procedures and accommodations), see KSU’s official Covid-19 website.

Face Coverings

Based on guidance from the University System of Georgia (USG), all vaccinated and unvaccinated individuals are encouraged to wear a face covering while inside campus facilities. Unvaccinated individuals are also strongly encouraged to continue to socially distance while inside campus facilities, when possible.

University Policies

Academic Integrity Statement

Every KSU student is responsible for upholding the provisions of the Student Code of Conduct, as published in the Undergraduate and Graduate Catalogs. Section 5c of the Student Code of Conduct addresses the University's policy on academic honesty, including provisions regarding plagiarism and cheating, unauthorized access to university materials, misrepresentation/falsification of university records or academic work, malicious removal, retention, or destruction of library materials, malicious/intentional misuse of computer facilities and/or services, and misuse of student identification cards. Incidents of alleged academic misconduct will be handled through the established procedures of the Department of Student Conduct and Academic Integrity (SCAI), which includes either an "informal" resolution by a faculty member, resulting in a grade adjustment, or a formal hearing procedure, which may subject a student to the Code of Conduct's minimum one semester suspension requirement. See also <https://web.kennesaw.edu/scai/content/ksu-student-code-of-conduct>

Disruptive Behavior

Belligerent, abusive, profane, threatening and/or inappropriate behavior on the part of students is a violation of the KSU Student Code of Conduct. According to university policy regarding disruptive behavior, students who are found in violation of the Code of Conduct may be subject to immediate dismissal from the university. Also, those violations, which may constitute misdemeanor or felony violations of state or federal law, may also be subject to criminal action beyond the university disciplinary process.

Special Needs & Accommodations

Kennesaw State University provides program accessibility and reasonable accommodations for persons defined as disabled under Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990. Students with disabilities who require accommodations (academic adjustments and/or auxiliary aids or services) for this course must contact the Office for Disabled Student Support Services, ADA Compliance Officer for Students, at 770-423-6443 (V) or 770-423-6480 (TDD). Please do not request accommodations directly from the professor or instructor without a letter of accommodation from the Office for Disabled Student Support Services. For additional information, please visit: http://www.kennesaw.edu/stu_dev/dsss/dsss.html. ##
Student Code of Conduct – Strictly Enforced

Plagiarism and Cheating

No student shall receive, attempt to receive, knowingly give or attempt to give unauthorized assistance in the preparation of any work required to be submitted for credit as part of a course (including examinations, laboratory reports, essays, themes, term papers, etc.). When direct quotations are used, they should be indicated, and when the ideas, theories, data, figures, graphs, programs, electronic based information or illustrations of someone other than the student are incorporated into a paper or used in a project, they should be duly acknowledged.

Translated Examples of Academic Dishonesty Covered Under the Student Code of Conduct

All graded work is to be performed by the individual, unless otherwise specified as a group project. Work submitted that is not representative of individual effort is prohibited and considered a violation of the code of conduct. This includes the shared use of electronic files. Use of any electronic file not specifically made available to the individual in the currently enrolled course is prohibited and considered a violation of the code of conduct. In a credit-generating course where class attendance/participation is tied directly to a grading structure or point system, misrepresentation of attendance/participation is considered a violation of the code of conduct. On-line examinations are subject to the same classroom setting protocols as traditional examinations.